

I really feel the no-call-list should stay as is. They have other ways of advertising to the public.